Further Recovery in Cotton.

By The Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—There was a further recovery of approximately one cent a pound in the cotton market here today owing to continued Liverpool buying increasing optimism with reference to prospects for a settlement of British labor troubles and covering by shorts.

December contracts sold up to 21c, making an advance of 103 points from the previous close and of 320 points, or over $16 per bale from the low record of last Monday. That delivery closed at 20.65 with the general market closing irregular at a net advance of 40 to 70 points.

Reports that the governor of Louisiana had called for an immediate closing down of guns throughout the State came in for a good deal of comment but gave rise to conflicting views.

HEARING ON CORPUS AS SAFE ADEQUATE HARBOR

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Oct. 23.—A public hearing to which citizens of Corpus Christi, Rockport, Port Aransas and Aransas Pass, will be invited will be held Monday, Nov. 8, by Major L. M. Adams, U. S. Engineer Corps, engineer at Galveston, to inquire into the possibility of obtaining safe and adequate harbor in this district.

The official notification says the meeting will discuss "any matters that may have a bearing on the examination of the coast of Texas in the vicinity of Aransas Pass, Rockport with a view to establishment of a safe and adequate harbor, securing of increased depths and channels to Rockport, Aransas Pass and Corpus Christi and protection of the existing project at Port Aransas, Texas."

The hearing will be in addition to an official survey of waters in question which has been under way for several weeks, under provisions of the Rivers and Harbors bill enacted at the last session of congress.

A. & M. TO LAUNCH ANTI-RAT CAMPAIGN IN TEXAS

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Oct. 23.—Texas A. & M. college is preparing to launch a state-wide campaign for rat extermination, according to a letter received by D. A. Huddleston, scout executive here, who has headed the Boy Scout rat extermination campaign here which resulted in the killing of approximately 6,000 rats at an average cost to the community of less than 10 cents each. Figures from other Texas points have shown that the average cost of each rat caught has been about one dollar.

The slowness of the campaign against rats is believed by Mr. Huddleston to be explained by a peculiar phenomenon he noted during the local campaign. Of almost 6,000 rats caught here, fewer than fifty were females, he said. It is his theory that the female rats with her young, and the male rat is charged with foraging for the family; either that, or the female rat is far more intelligent than the male.

HARDING ALLUDES TO CONTROVERSY WILSON-SPENCER

Thinks Testimony Of Rumanian Premier Enlightening On What Wilson Said.

QUOTES JEFFERSON AND CLEVELAND TOGETHER

Insists Article Ten Would Submerge American Nationality And Independence Forever.

By The Associated Press.

MARION, Ohio, Oct. 23.—Alluding for the first time to the controversy between President Wilson and Senator Spencer over the former's Paris utterance regarding America's part in maintaining European peace, Senator Harding said tonight that the version of the president's words recently published in this country and attributed to Premier Bratianu of Rumania served to throw new light on the real character of Article 10. The controversy as to the exact language used by Mr. Wilson was not itself discussed by the republican nominee, who said in reply to a question that it was not his dispute. He added, however, that "the belated testimony of the Rumanian premier is very interesting by way of confirming the president's objections to amending the league covenant."

Quotes The President.

"The president said to several senators," continued Mr. Harding, "for one of whom I can speak definitely, that any amendment would lead to demands by Rumania and other small nations with attending embarrassment."

"All this emphasizes our objection to the covenant as written. Clearly the supreme council trespassed the rights of the small nations and assumed to decide their very own political and economic affairs and then set about to maintain the existing order of things by the rule of force. It has been the republican purpose all along to establish a world association for the rule of justice rather than force."

"Clearly Europe understands that which we are coming to know, that the league as written commits America to the armed support of the four great powers in maintaining the integrity of their enlarged dominions, whenever attacked from without. This is why America will vote its own amendment, namely, Article 10, which is the only way we can seek a new understanding, and which will hold us untrammelled in Europe and the Orient."

Quotes Thomas Jefferson.

"The senator made no speeches during the day but in elaborating his comment on the Bratianu interview he gave out several quotations from Thomas Jefferson, Grover Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson, which he said had a direct bearing on the whole league issue. He called attention that it was 97 years ago tomorrow that Jefferson wrote to Monroe."

"Our first and fundamental maxim should be never to entangle ourselves in the broils of Europe."

The following he quoted from a speech by Cleveland, Dec. 8, 1895: "We have foreborne from taking any part in any controversy between foreign states but have left to every nation the exclusive conduct and management of its own affairs."

His quotation from President Wilson was taken from a newspaper report of the president's words on May 19, 1914, and was as follows: "America would lead her own life. We can not form alliances with those who are not going our way. We need not and we should not form alliances with any nation in the world."

His comment on Wilson.

In his comment on these utterances Senator Harding said: "To all Americans and especially to all democrats, it must appear that Article 10, of the league of nations, which would submerge American nationality and independence in an armed alliance wearing a mask of benevolent idealism is a complete reversal, not only of American but of democratic policy."

"I do not hesitate to say that I stand by the expression of Jefferson, Cleveland and that of the president made in 1914, for I am unflinchingly opposed to Article 10."

"Neither Jefferson, Cleveland, nor the president in 1914, were opposed to cooperation between America and other nations of the world in the prevention of war or agreements of peace. I favor it. It is now the obligation of the party, and will be my obligation to take up the constructive work of an association of nations behind which American opinion can be harmonized and Americans united."

Mr. Harding spent virtually all of today at work on the speeches with which he will wind up his campaign next week in Ohio.

ROAD WORK PRACTICALLY SUSPENDED BY RAIN

County Engineer W. M. Fooshee stated last night that work on the roads that are being constructed under the bond issue was practically suspended all of the past week on account of the rains.

There is a prospect, however, of a good deal of work being done within the next few weeks if the rains do not continue to interfere.

Four fifteen-team outfits have arrived to begin grading on highways 5 and 19, and eight more fifteen team outfits are expected to arrive by the middle of this week.

One of the new outfits is camped at Arthur City and one between Glady and Broadway. Two camps have been established west of Blossom.

RENTED NINE YEARS THEN BOUGHT FARM

But He Didn't Do It With Cotton And Has Grown Little Of It Since.

J. C. Gambill, a well known farmer who lives out near the city lake, has the reputation among those who know him of being one of the most successful farmers in Lamar county. He has been pronounced by some who know him as, without exception, the best farmer in the county.

The fact that he has been so successful as a farmer and is considered such a good farmer is doubtless largely due to his not having been raised in a cotton country, but in a country where people on wornout hills had to diversify their crops and raise a little of everything in order to make a comfortable living.

Mr. Gambill was born and reared in Middle Tennessee, where they didn't grow cotton. Where he came from they raised wheat, corn, hogs, cattle and mules. Consequently when he came to Lamar county he was inclined to follow along the same line of farming that he was used to as a boy.

From Renter to Landowner.

When he came to Lamar county twenty-eight years ago he was a poor young man with plenty of energy, a willingness to work and good common sense at his capital. He located on the McHam farm southeast of town and worked on the same place for nine years. Never having known anything about cotton as a crop until he came here he preferred to farm in the way that he had been used to and let others raise cotton.

His subsequent experience with cotton didn't change him into a one-day farmer. During his twenty-eight years as a Lamar county farmer he never has raised a great deal of cotton.

After working on the McHam farm nine years as a renter he was able to buy it with the money that he made and saved. Later he sold it and bought the farm northwest of town in the Hopewell community on which he is living at present and which he is converting into a model farm.

Makes a Living At Home.

Mr. Gambill, in planting cotton confines the acreage to what he can cultivate himself. By this method he cannot lose and is not affected by the scarcity or high price of labor. The last few years in addition to raising corn, cotton and other crops he raises a few mules, sheep, goats and cattle.

For twenty-seven years he has kept a few stands of hogs, which he wants him with all the honey that he wants, saves him the expense of buying syrup and affords a supply to sell for ready money. He exchanges some honey yesterday with a neighbor for sweet potatoes.

He shears his small bunch of sheep once a year and sells the wool, and sells the lambs to the markets. They are of very little expense to him, he said, as they eat a lot of weeds that cattle won't eat, and in the woods they eat bushes. He said that he didn't make quite as much off his goats as he does off the sheep, but they are very little expense to him, and once in a while he has a kid for his own table use, which helps along the meat supply.

Mayor J. M. Crook, who has frequently had an opportunity to observe Mr. Gambill's methods on his trips to the city lake, and Dr. F. G. Cook, the veterinary surgeon, who has been called to the farm to look after the livestock, declare that he is a diversified farmer sure enough.

Mr. Gambill expressed his idea of diversified farming in connection with the livestock part of it by saying that a small farmer who isn't infatuated with raising cotton should have land cut up and fenced off in small patches and plant them in peas and different forage crops for the stock, which should be allowed to run in one of them for some time while the forage is coming on in the other patches.

When one patch is eaten down and tramped over the stock can be turned in a fresh patch and be always kept in fine condition. He makes frequent shipments of his stock to the Fort Worth market.

In addition to his numerous other crops and sources of revenue and living Mr. Gambill has an orchard in which he has apples, peaches, pears, plums and everything imaginable, and has an abundance of canned fruit for home use.

One of the most interesting things in connection with his farming operations is the way that he builds up the land and carries on experiments. He runs a wagon constantly hauling manure from the wagon yards in town to fertilize the land. The haul is about six miles and it is a considerable undertaking.

He also hauls ashes from the handle factory to use as a fertilizer. In the use of the ashes he carried on some experimental farming and it proved a success.

Back in Tennessee, where he was raised when the sides of the mountains became too poor and worn out to raise sweet clover the farmers ground up the limestone rock and spread it over the soil to make the clover stick.

On his farm near the city lake he had a piece of ground that he desired to plant in clover, but it wouldn't stick, and not having the Tennessee limestone rocks to grind up and sprinkle over the ground he concluded to try sprinkling ashes over it and turning them under to give the soil the proper proportion of mineral.

The experiment was such a success that he is grazing sheep and hogs on the clover and the bees are making honey from it. He has about four acres of clover patch, which is pretty large considering what a job it is to haul ashes several miles and scatter them over the ground.

HUGHES SAYS COX RUNS FOR WILSON

Defeated Candidate For Presidency Tells Glibly Of An Autocratic Leader.

By The Associated Press.

NEW HAVE, Pa., Oct. 23.—Woodrow Wilson might as well be the democratic candidate for president again this year, as Governor Cox, Charles E. Hughes declared in an address on the league of nations here tonight.

"How vain is it to say that Mr. Cox is running for president, and not Mr. Wilson," Mr. Hughes exclaimed, adding:

"The time has now passed for efforts to placate an autocratic executive. If Mr. Cox is going to part company with Mr. Wilson, and is opposed to Article 10 of the league covenant why should he not frankly say that he favors its elimination?"

The stand of Governor Cox and President Wilson are identical to commit the United States to the league with Article 10, and only meaningless reservations, Mr. Hughes asserted.

Neither the president nor the governor have changed their attitude in this respect and all insinuations and declarations to the contrary are misstatements, he added.

"If Article 10 were a meaningless form of words, Mr. Wilson would not object to removing it. But he insists upon it because it does impose an obligation and because he desires the United States to rest under that obligation. Having secured the imposition of the obligation, he has no objection to what he considers a vacuous statement as to the way in which we discharge our obligations."

"We come now to the question of the attitude of Mr. Cox and in behalf of his abhorrence of wobbling, we may suppose that it will exhibit a similar fixity of purpose."

"Unless the democratic platform intended grossly to deceive the people, it meant to say that the party endorsed President Wilson in his firm stand against any reservation which would impair the effectiveness of Article 10. Then what of the candidate? Did he not say explicitly that he stood on the democratic platform? Will he now say that he repudiates the democratic platform?"

"This question came up acutely at once and to settle Mr. Cox made the pilgrimage to the White House so that there should be no mistake of the entire concord of the two leaders."

ROOSEVELT TELLS COX THAT THINGS LOOK GOOD

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Mr. Roosevelt today sent a telegram to Governor Cox at New York City, excerpts of which are:

"I have just completed a tour through all the districts surrounding Buffalo and the entire southern tier of New York state, and I am able to give you some exceedingly cheerful first hand information. I find that there is unmistakably the same swing toward the democratic cause in this state that we both have noticed in the middle west. Local committee-men tell me that republican adherents in their territory is aligning himself in support of you, almost invariably on account of their conviction that the league of nations must be sustained and that your election is the only possible way which this can be done."

"I am convinced that the barricades of wilful misrepresentation and suppression of the facts, created by the republican campaign managers have been swept away and that the knowledge of what this election means has turned to our cause more than enough ballots to place New York in the democratic column."

HILL WINS MATCH WITH FORMER A. E. F. CHAMPION

By The Associated Press.

SHREVEPORT, Oct. 23.—F. A. Hill (Red) Hill, of Fort Worth was a champion over Billie Kleck, welterweight champion of the A. E. F. in the 19th round of a scheduled twenty round bout here tonight when Kleck fell unconscious in a clinch. Kleck put up a game fight, coming in strong each round after taking much punishment.

Joe Gorman, of Denver, lost on points in a ten round bout with Tommy Fisher of Fort Worth. Tone, the Greek of Shreveport, won over Ted Lewis, of Fort Worth in the preliminaries.

OFFICIAL FOUND DEAD NEAR CAPITAL CITY

WATERTON, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Major Frank M. Scanlon, found dead near Washington last night, was out on bail following conviction on a charge of "unintentional manslaughter" returned by a New Mexico jury last spring.

While a squad of men under his direction were engaged in secret practice in that State last spring, a member of a passing automobile party was shot and killed and Major Scanlon was tried for manslaughter. He was absolved of all blame by the army officials.

Tick Eradication Conference.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 23.—A meeting of stock raisers of the third zone of Texas to discuss ways and means of inaugurating a campaign against fever ticks has been called by the Rural Land Owners' association to be held here Saturday, Nov. 13. This announcement followed a recent conference between the directors of the Rural Land Owners' association and the Texas Livestock Sanitary commission at Kinsville. Stockmen of 54 counties involved will be invited to attend the meeting, which is regarded as of vital importance to the cattle industry.

Elaborate Celebration Of Armistice Day Is Planned

Winfield Brown post, American Legion, proposes a real celebration on Armistice Day, being November 11. It is earnestly requested that every factory in Paris blow its whistle at 11 o'clock, just as they did two years ago and that every place of business close at that hour for the rest of the day to the end that the people may participate in the celebration even as they did when the first armistice day came in 1918.

If there be places which cannot close for the day, there is request that at 11 o'clock they stop for five minutes and make some sort of observance of the day even though a brief one.

Salute the Flag

Every veteran of the great war is expected to uncover at that hour and to salute the flag if there be one in sight—and there is further request that there be displayed the flag on every business house so that the veterans may have no trouble, no matter where they may be, in finding a flag to salute.

If there be no regular flagpole, a temporary one will be small trouble, and certainly all of the flags which were flying to the breeze two years ago have not been permitted to become moth eaten.

At 2:30 there will be a parade in which all members of Winfield Brown post and all sojourning visiting veterans are requested to participate as well as veterans of other wars, members of the Red Cross, Boy Scouts, all public officials, members of the Chamber of Commerce, school children and every citizen of Paris, each going to that division which is of his or her preference if there be divided membership.

Ceremony On Plaza

The Armistice Day speech will be delivered on the Plaza after the parade, the name of the speaker to be announced later; and this will be followed by the presentation of victory medals to the former service men.

For the evening a great pageant of school children is to be given on the Plaza if the plans which are now making can be carried out.

REPUBLICANS LEAD IN EXPENDITURES

Majority Of Campaign Fund Contributions Are Of $1000 Or Lesser Amounts.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The presidential campaign of 1920 up to October 13 had cost more than $3,600,000. Sworn statements filed with the clerk of the House of Representatives by the treasurer of the three principal parties show the following total expenditure to that date:

Republican national committee $2,741,503.34.
Democratic national committee $699,971.59.
Socialist national committee $48,478.68.

Contributions to the various campaign funds aggregated about $3,325,000. The republican national committee reporting a total of $2,466,019.54, democratic national committee $677,934.87 and the socialist party $51,028.24. The democratic congressional committee received $13,475.75 and the similar republican organization $116,700.

The socialist party's committee report also showed a surplus of receipts over expenditures of $116,700. The republican report made a volume of more than 2,500 pages with each individual contribution listed to give the full name and address of the donor. According to the national committee more than 34,000 names were listed. No effort was made to group contributions by states or to assemble them according to the size of the gifts.

Both republican and democratic reports showed hundreds of $1,000 donations while larger items were few. It was stated that there were but sixteen of these larger contributions in the republican lists and not more than 24 in the democratic.

Among the larger contributions to the republican campaign fund were: Truxton Beale, New York $10,000 (for a war contribution); James B. Smith, San Francisco $5,000; J. B. Cossen, Tulsa, Okla. $2,000; Charles F. Pfister, Chicago. $1,000; Charles E. Bockus, New York, George W. H. H. Hill, Chicago, W. H. R. Hill, Pittsburgh and George F. Baker, Chicago $2,000; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Astor, $1,000 each; Howard E. Hedger, Aberdeen, S. D., $1,500; Henry W. Taft, $1,000; T. C. Durant $1,000; Chas. M. Depew $1,000; Wm. Metcalf, Jr., $1,000; Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, $1,000.

In the democratic list were five contributions of more than $5,000: A. W. Austin, Texas $20,000; Rembrandt Peale, Carrollton, Penn. $10,000; Chas. R. Crane and Thomas L. Chadbourne, Jr., New York $7,500, and E. L. Doheny $6,500.

Mr. Burch donated $5,000 to the national democratic fund, and $5,000 to the "pro-league independents," a political organization of New York City, which collected $16,735 and expended $13,706.

Contributors to the democratic national committee were Edward H. Hurley, August Belmont, Joseph E. Wilard, Francis Burton Harrison, Mrs. Emmens Blaine, Cleveland H. Ryan, Allen A. Rayn, Ira Morris, Nathan Strauss, C. E. Davis, M. Liebel, Jr., $5,000 each; Charles B. Alexander $4,000; F. D. Roosevelt, Geo. F. Brennan and W. N. Reynolds $3,000; A. J. Casey $2,500; James W. Gerard and Norman H. Davis $2,000; E. T. Meredith, G. N. Hitchcock and John B. Payne $1,000; Mitchell Palmer $500, Col. E. M. House $500 and Hon. Alton B. Parker, $100.

GOV. COX STRESSES HIS ATTITUDE IN REGARD TO LEAGUE

Willingness To Accept Helpful Reservations Is Reiterated By Candidate.

NECESSITY FOR LEAGUE IS KEYNOTE OF SPEECHES

Madison Square Address Closes Tour Of Coast By Democratic

No Ince.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Governor

Cox delivered his league of nations message to a great audience in Madison Square Garden tonight, and emphasizing business and economic considerations, declared "the successful future depends upon entrance into the league at the earliest possible moment."

"Willingness to make 'some compromise' upon the league reservation was declared by the democratic candidate. Reiterated that he would accept 'Helpful Reservations.' If elected, he said he 'would lift this issue out of politics by a result which would insure the entrance of the United States into the league, with the idea of perfecting it and obtaining for ourselves the benefits which will accrue.'"

Governor Cox's speech, closing his coast campaign, recited his past events stressed agricultural, industrial, banking and other arguments for American participation in the league.

"The most serious depression the country has ever witnessed," was predicted by the nominee if the league cause was lost. Business depression already, he declared, "has grown intense," the result of Senator Harding's statements on his league attitude.

Reiterating that financial rehabilitation, credit and power together with increased business resources would flow from the league's success, Governor Cox declared:

"Never Lend Army To Europe. 'If we go into the league our financial power will guarantee that we shall never have to send an American army to fight in Europe. If we meet the opportunity that calls to us, we can write word American across the page of the twentieth century in letters of light.'"

Regarding compromising upon league reservations, Governor Cox said: "It is going to be necessary to make some compromise upon the reservation desired end, and that I am willing to do. I am for the ratification of the league reservations and have so stated my position in every speech made from the Atlantic to the Pacific. I will accept reservations that are helpful, that will clarify, that will reassure our own people, and that will make clear to our associates in the league, the limitations of our constitution, beyond which we can not go, among which are the Hitchcock reservations."

Another promise made by Governor Cox was that he would not hesitate to call upon any man for aid, regardless of his policies.

Not Bound To Partisans.

"As an executive of some experience, and as a result of knowledge gained as a member of the appropriations committee in congress and as a business man who has spent his days and nights to make the ledger balance, I am keenly aware of the necessity to improve and modernize the executive machinery of our federal government and to bring into contact the best brains and experience America contains," he said.

"The United States government will be called upon next year to expend four, and five billion dollars. I believe in team work."

"America has been thrown into the world's economic whirlpool, and has been held there while conspirators worked their will for partisan advantage. We have had enough of the old reconstruction undertaker. There can be no re-establishment of stability of business conditions until a decision is made and made right."

As a result of the heavy rains of the past week some of the cotton buyers are quoted as saying that unless the farmers let the cotton remain on the stalks after the sun comes out until it is thoroughly bleached the grade will be so low that there will be no sale for it."

J. M. Curtis a Fannin county farmer from near Windom who was in Paris yesterday, said that in view of his condition some of the farmers of his county are figuring on running stalk cutters over the cotton fields and clearing the land and sowing it in wheat. He said that a great deal of wheat was being sown with the intention of reducing the cotton acreage next year.

A Lamar county farmer said yesterday that a good deal of cotton in his community might not be gathered on account of the rains making the grade too low for it to find a market.

NORMA TALMADGE APPEARS IN DUAL ROLE AT GRAND

On Tuesday and Wednesday the Grand will offer Miss Norma Talmadge in her newest First National Photoplay, "Yes or No." Few photoplays of recent years have offered such decided contrasts as "Yes or No." In every woman's life there comes a time when "Yes or No" has a fateful significance, when much of tragedy or much of happiness of human existence hangs upon her decision. Whether she be rich or poor, the moment comes when she must bravely fight or yield to temptation. Following is the story:

Margaret Vane, pampered and petted wife of Donald Vane mistakes her husband's devotion to business for indifference toward her. As a matter of fact, Vane is ruining his health in business, endeavoring to supply Margaret with the luxuries she craves.

In a squalid little East Side tenement house, Min Berry and her husband find themselves in a losing fight against poverty. A boarder, Ted Leach, is taken in to revive the withering income. Leach has a secret infatuation for Min, but she is too busy working to even notice that her husband is neglecting her in his fight against poverty.

In a more beautiful environment, Margaret Vane confides her disappointment and resentment to Paul Berreck, a social parasite. Margaret promises Berreck she will run away with him. Her husband dies of the shock, when he hears of Margaret's plan.

Realizing that his wife has neglected, Jack proposes a trip to the movies. Upon returning home, Jack invents a little device for Min's washing machine, which lessens her work considerably. Min is happy until Leach makes several advances to her, which are repulsed. Trying to express his emo-

NEW RECORD MADE BY CARGO CARRYING VESSEL

GALVESTON, Oct. 23.—A new trans-Atlantic cargo carrying record has been established by the United States Shipping Board steamer Daniel Webster, according to shipping men here. The Webster recently completed a voyage from Bahia Blanca, Argentina, to London with 9,800 tons of oats in bulk—approximately 700,000 bushels—below her decks. On a basis of 30 bushels to the acre, the shipping board vessel transported overseas the product of 17,000 acres. The Daniel Webster also holds the cotton-carrying record. In December, 1919, the vessel cleared this port with 33,120 bales of cotton, valued at $7,000,000 stowed beneath her decks.

SHORTHORN SHOW BEST IN NATION

State Fair Of Texas Has Great
Collection Of Live Stock.

(Dallas News.)

That the showing of shorthorn cattle at the State Fair of Texas surpasses any similar exhibition of the kind held this year was the opinion expressed by those who were judging shorthorns in the livestock arena Tuesday. The farther South the shows have been held the greater and more interesting the exhibits have become, was the announcement made to the crowds who watched the judging of shorthorns Tuesday morning. The animals were in unusually good condition and there was much speculation among the fair visitors as to which animals would take first place. Due to the fact that so many of the animals scored high on points, the judging was done more painstakingly than is usually the case.

The judging was begun early in the forenoon and continued until late in the afternoon. All animals brought upon the arena had been thoroughly washed and brushed for the last three or four days, and the keepers were at work early Tuesday morning putting the finishing touches on their valuable animals. Many of the breeders brought their stock from their farms in distant parts of the country, and have previously taken prizes with them at former State fairs.

In the process of judging the entries were led into the arena and lined up for detailed inspection, and notations of the total points of each animal were entered on a score card. After each animal had been correctly scored, they were led around the arena to show off their general appearance and carriage.

Great Beef Cattle.

Practically all the cattle judged Tuesday morning were registered pure-bred shorthorns, coming from the finest animals of the breed. The shorthorn is one of the most important of beef cattle raised in the United States and is noted for his adaptability to almost any climate, doing equally well in Michigan, Illinois, and other Northern States, and Texas. It grows to very large size and produces the finest quality of beef.

A point about the shorthorn exhibit this year that is attracting the attention of all visitors is the unusually large number of entries and the great size of some of the bulls. Some of them seem to be almost as large as the elephant. The shorthorn exhibits surpass any other breed in the number of entries.

Many of the big breeders of shorthorn cattle have animals in every

They Are Abroad In The Land
Seeking Cash Of Unwary.

(From Progressive Farmer.)

Behold, the time draweth nigh when the agent is abroad in the land. He looketh and sayeth "It is good." He cannaeth his tale Lizzie and his soft words of pleasant promises fall sweetly upon our ears. But my daughter, heed not the voice of the agent, nor sit in the seat of those that buy therefrom for his ways are ways of deception and his wares are made to sell.

Remember thou the home merchant who has lent you money in time of need. Go thou and buy in thy home town. Buy from the man who runneth not away but who dwelleth among you so if perchance his goods be not good, and his wares do not wear thou canst go to him and speak to him. Yea, thou canst speak to him fully as brother speaketh unto brother. Thou canst lay bare thy righteous indignation before him; but the traveling agent vanishes as snow flakes on the river. The places that knew him know him no more. And the dollars made in the sweat of thy brow have gone from thy sight forever.

There came unto us a man selling stoves, and now there goeth up a meaning in the land for the departed dollars. Another sold sweet dreams of fruit orchards which he would spray. Alas he returneth not.

class from 3 years old and over to young calves, and expect to take several prizes. There are also many exhibitors who are new in the shorthorn raising game, who have creditable animals and are taking off some of the awards.

A large part of the cattle barns has been taken up by the shorthorn men of the State and Nation. The animals are not uniform in color, varying from pure white and pure gray to dark brown, with big spots and grizzly waves. Some of the animals are smooth, while others have frizzled or curly hair.

THE SOUTH IS FOR PROTECTION

When that statement was made a few years ago there were those who scoffed at it and they declared it could never be. But the South has at last arrived at the point where it is going to demand—and secure—a protective tariff for its cash crop, cotton. That much is assured.

THE REPUBLICANS may not recognize their opportunity this year. They may wait for a time; but it is assured that they are going to come strong with their arguments. But they are hypocritical. The republican strong box keepers demand free raw materials and they are going to keep on demanding them and securing them so long as the republicans are in power. That has been done these sixty years and the South should not be fooled any longer.

THE DEMOCRACY is committed to a tariff for revenue only, it is true—traditionally that is democratic policy. But there is to be something of a change in the aspect of affairs and the shade of Samuel J. Randall shall yet see a democratic platform in which the old Pennsylvania politician struggled for so many years.

THE SOUTH has been in serfdom these many years. It will continue in serfdom so long as it permits cotton to dominate it. That is true. I have been said these many times through these sixty years—but the South is awakening. The anarchists who threaten to burn gins and who scare timid merchants are not going to accomplish anything—but the thinking men of the South are.

COTTON WILL RUIN US if we will only stick to it along the present lines for a few more years. It has ruined millions of men and women in the South through these sixty years and we have followed in their footsteps—but the worm is about to turn, we verily believe. The thinking men of the South at last are coming to recognize that if they are not to be ruined and bring down upon future generations the curse which has clung to those of the past they must dethrone cotton and make of it a servitor rather than a master.

COTTON is the greatest blessing conferred upon mankind, in some respects. It was intended by the Almighty to be a blessing. But mortal man is given to perverting the gifts of God and making curses of them instead; and it has been that way with cotton. In the name of cotton we committed the great crime of holding humans in slavery. In the name of cotton have we builded insane asylums and filled them with broken women and tired men. We built great cotton mills in the South and wore out the lives of little children in an effort to compete with the child labor of New England.

NO WONDER that we have found cotton a curse! We did all this in the name of cotton but really and truly in the interest of our selfish cupidity. But we can change that. We can emancipate our women and our children from the deadly embrace of cotton, which is smothering out the lives of thousands of them every year in Texas. It can be done and we can do it—and now is the accepted time to do it.

NOT THROUGH A TARIFF—that is a political method which will avail little. But through common sense and the application of business principles to the matter. Let us all get behind the American Cotton association—and by all is meant the entire citizenship of the South; we of the farms and of the offices and of the banks and the stores—we can accomplish something then. We can find something else to grow.

WE OF LAMAR COUNTY need not await the action of the other counties in the South. We can act independently and our example may put some backbone into those other counties. We are not broke—yet. We are not down and out—yet. We are not at the end of our resources—yet. It can be done and we can do it.

THE MORNING NEWS has been for two weeks publishing interviews with the farmers of Lamar county. They are in earnest this time. They are willing to get away from cotton. They are going to—some of them. Others are not. They may have to be helped a bit by the land owners, by the bankers, by the merchants—but it will be an investment and not a donation. Each year, with few exceptions, the whole South is asked to come to the aid of the cotton grower in one way or another. It is an old story and recurs with frequency year after year.

WHY NOT do this finally? Why not so effectually come to his aid that the cotton grower will be no longer in need and can hold up his own row—can be an independent business man with a regular income and with no fear of the morrow. Plowing and planting and laboring with sweat pouring from his head and knowing not what he is to get for his labor. It can be done and "WE" can do it.

Happy Jack Spies on Striped Chipmunk.

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

"Now you see me, now you don't. Fiddle, fiddle, fiddle, fee! Mighty spy you'll have to move if you keep your eyes on me!"

Striped Chipmunk was whisking about among the brown and yellow leaves that covered the ground on the edge of the Green Forest. He is such a little fellow that he looked almost like a brown leaf himself, and when one of Old Mother Wind's Merry little breezes whirled the brown leaves in a mad little dance around him it was the hardest work in the world to see Striped Chipmunk at all. Anyway, Happy Jack Squirrel found it so.

You see, Happy Jack was spying on Striped Chipmunk. Yes, sir, Happy Jack knew it and all of the time he was doing it was feeling very much ashamed of himself. But he said to himself that he just had to know where Striped Chipmunk's storehouse was, because he just had to peep inside and find out if it had any of the big, fat hickory nuts that had disappeared from under the tall hickory tree while he was quarreling up in the top of it with his cousin, Chatterer the Red Squirrel.

But spying on Striped Chipmunk isn't the easiest thing in the world. Happy Jack was finding it the hardest work he had ever undertaken. Striped Chipmunk is so sly and whisking about so that you need eyes all around your head to keep track of him. Happy Jack found that his two eyes, bright and quick as they are, couldn't keep that little elf of a cousin of his always in sight. Every few minutes he would disappear and then bob up again in the most unexpected place and most provoking way.

"Now I'm here and now I'm there. Now I'm not anywhere! Watch me now, for here I go. Out of sight! I told you so." With the last words Striped Chipmunk was nowhere to be seen. It mean by saying such things? And yet Happy Jack was sure that Striped Chipmunk hadn't seen him for all the time he was watching. Happy Jack had taken the greatest care to keep hidden himself. No, it couldn't be, it just couldn't be, that Striped Chipmunk knew that he was anywhere about. He would just be patient a little longer and he would surely see that smart little cousin of his go to his storehouse. So Happy Jack waited and watched.

THERE IS MONEY IN CORN AND HOGS

J. R. Parker Has Demonstrated That Cash May Be Had For Such Products.

T. J. Bridges, living southwest of town, said that the farmers ought to cut the acreage at least 25 or 50 per cent, but that 50 per cent would be better. There is no use for a man to work himself to death raising a crop and getting nothing out of it. He had never been much in favor of laws regulating what a man should do or not do, but if a law could be enforced to prevent the raising of so much cotton he would be inclined to favor it.

Unless everybody put his shoulder to the wheel it wouldn't do any good for just a few farmers to reduce the acreage. They ought to grow a plenty of feedstuff and live at home. If a man has a plenty of corn and hogs you can't starve him, although he may not be able to dress fine.

Money In Corn And Hogs.
J. R. Parker, living out near the city here, said he had preached all the time that the farmers ought not to have so much cotton and he had never depended on it. There is no farmer who couldn't make a living by raising a good corn crop and feeding it to hogs. It is much easier than raising cotton, and he can always get a fair price for hogs. With corn to feed them a tenant farmer could buy fifteen head of hogs when they were shoats at $4 or $5 each and make them put on enough fat in six months to sell for $45 apiece.

W. R. Anderson of the Mt. Olive community, said that reduction of the cotton acreage seemed to be the only solution. He had heard a right smart of talk about it but didn't know whether they would stick to it or not. He didn't think there was any doubt that the acreage would be reduced in his neighborhood, and that more land would be planted in feedstuff, peas and potatoes.

Brice Jesse of the Linden community north of Blossom, said that they would reduce the acreage in his neighborhood and plant more feedstuff and more to eat.

Bankers And Landlords Should Help.
W. C. Cassell, one of the most prominent land owners in the county, said he was in favor of cutting down the acreage to an extent. He performed fifty per cent. A good many things could be raised in place of cotton, including sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, onions and a whole lot of other things on black land that are not raised at all. The black land farmer is so absorbed in cotton that he just has a little old garden that he could work out in half an hour, but he hasn't got time from his cotton patch and leaves his wife to work it.

He believed the farmers would reduce the acreage if the bankers and landlords and merchants would help. The banker ought to agree not to lend money to a farmer who won't reduce his acreage. The merchants can help the same way, and they and the bankers ought to go into the organization to bring about a reduction. J. W. Wilson, a tenant farmer between Brookston and Roxton, said that cutting the acreage was the only thing to do. It ought to be required at least a third and a plenty of corn and oats ought to be raised. If they don't reduce the country will be ruined. One handicap the tenant farmer labors under, however, is that where he raises anything but cotton the landlord requires money rent.

Little Money In Livestock.
Ed H. McCullison, who has a farm on the river and manages his mother's farm at Pattonville, said he reduced the acreage this year, but if anybody else did he didn't hear of it. He still believes the acreage ought to be reduced. There was nothing except the ordinary feed crops. He didn't think there was much profit in raising a lot of corn to feed to hogs to sell. The livestock market was as unsatisfactory as the cotton market. The only advantage from livestock was that the farmer would have them to fall back on. They could not be eaten up by worms and boll weevils like cotton, but there was nothing in it alluring at all.

Charles Wilson of Sumner said reduction of acreage would be a good thing for the country. The farmers ought to plant corn and oats and raise their meat at home.

WHEAT PRICES DECLINE DURING LATE TRADING

New Orleans Cotton.
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 23.—The movement to stop gaining dominated trading in cotton today and caused advances of over a cent a pound from the low levels made around the opening, increasing from 12.25 to 20.35. The close was at a net gain for the day of 79 to 78 points.

When the demand for the crop swept the market clean of offerings and put prices at 84 to 88 point higher than yesterday's basis, a hopeful tone in much cotton speculation regarding the labor situation helped the rise to some extent. The close was firm.

Chicago Grain.
CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—The big export demand of the past few days and the strength in foreign markets gave grain a good tone at the start today but when the buying power eased off the market broke and at the finish wheat was 2 to 2 1/2¢ lower with December 1.93 1/2 to 2.00 and March 1.93 1/2 to 1.93 3/4. Corn was off 1/4¢ to 1¢ and oats were unchanged to 1/2¢ down. Provisions ranged from 20¢ lower to 25¢ higher.

Cash interests were the best sellers while outside buying was light. Exports demand was reported as inactive today.

Early strength in wheat helped corn, but selling by large interests soon nipped buyers.

HARRY COX GOT A COUPLE DOLLARS

Suffragists Were Reminded Of Democratic Nominee When They Met Him.

Harry Cox, The Morning News man, having been properly introduced as being of the same disposition as Jimmie Cox, democratic nominee for the presidency, became popular with the ladies at once and brought in two dollars Saturday, one from Miss Dallen and the other from Miss Ewing.

But they were the only two dollars brought in. The suffragists had the field to themselves, absolutely. Cotton receipts were low but there was a pretty good crowd in town and there was prospect for a few dollars to be added to the list; but it was a silly one and it would appear that most of the donating democrats have gotten their names on the rolls.

The campaign committee has underwritten the pledge made by the various counties—that is has taken it for granted that there will be redemption of them and has borrowed the money so that the campaign of education may proceed.

That being the case, it looks like Lamar county will have to pull the limit down a bit so that the committee can hedge on this amount. At that, Lamar is going to be made all right—she can't afford to be otherwise.

But kindly remember that when you see Harry Cox you may entrust your dollars to him and that they will go to the campaign fund for Jimmie Cox.

The Fund.
Miss Lucy Dallen	$ 1.00
Miss Lena Ewing	1.00
Saturday's list	2.00
Gross fund	$20.00

Grocer Up Against It.

"I have been up against it for past 3 years suffering from pain in my stomach and side until I was considering giving up my grocery business. Doctors and medicine did not help me. I heard of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy through a friend in Buffalo. The first dose gave me more benefit than all the medicine I had taken before and am now feeling as well as ever in my life." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allows the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Palace Drug Store and druggists everywhere.

PRACTICAL JOKERS INDULGE IN SHOCKING SPORT

Several practical jokers amused themselves yesterday by treating their friends to an electrical shock and at the same time furnished fun for crowds who were kept laughing.

During the storm a few nights ago the heavy glass was blown out of the display window in front of the Palace Drug Store and since then the wooden base has formed a convenient place to sit on the outside if loafers should be disposed to avail themselves of the opportunity.

The baseboards were connected with an electrical wire on the inside arranged so that they could be charged and give a person seated on them a harmless shock by pressing a button.

The practical jokers induced their victims to take a seat by them and had somebody stationed inside to press the button.

The jokers protected themselves from the shock by having some cardboard or newspaper to sit on while the victim sat on the charged wood.

BLACK IS TO MAKE SPEECH IN PARIS

Congressman Will Conclude His Campaign Here Saturday Afternoon.

Next Saturday afternoon Congressman Eugene Black will address the voters of Lamar county in the district court room.

Mr. Black has been making speeches for the democratic National ticket in the doubtful States and now concludes his campaign with a few talks to his home people.

Being without real opposition, he is enabled to devote his time to the success of the national ticket and is very sanguine that there will be success for Cox and Roosevelt.

Mr. Black is a good talker and his friends are desirous that there be a filled room to listen to him discuss the National campaign.

The republicans are making an effort in Lamar county this year and declare that they are sanguine of polling the largest vote for the republican ticket that has ever been cast in the county. They make this prediction because of the heat engendered during the recent primary and because of the personal popularity of the republican gubernatorial nominee and some of the campaign managers.

Mr. Black will make a straight democratic address and will point out why it would be a mistake to give any aid or comfort to the republicans or the so-called "American" party.

REPORT OF PARIS KING'S DAUGHTERS

Good Showing Which Was Made
During Past Year By Local Organization.

Following is the annual report of the Paris chapter of the King's Daughters. It was submitted to the State convention which was held in Paris during the past week and received high commendation as a record of accomplishment which reflected credit upon the local organization and that of the entire State of Texas.

Report of First Circle of the King's Daughters, Paris, Texas, May 1st, 1919 to May 1st, 1920.

Madam Chairman and Ladies of The Convention:

To this, the 21st, Annual Convention of the King's Daughters and Sons of Texas, honoring our little city with your presence, the First Circle of the King's Daughters of Paris extends a most cordial welcome and submits the following report:

Since our last State Convention, we have passed through the greatest conflict in the history of the world and it has called for greater service on the part of all organizations that minister to mankind. We are glad to state that our Circle gave freely of its services throughout the war to the local Red Cross; several members contributing their entire time, while every member aided in the work of this noble organization.

The Home Service section was taken over by our office with our Supervisor in charge, and one of our faithful members was Chairman of Woman's work in Lamar county. The records show that 5956 hours work on surgical dressings was done by members of this Circle. On April 1, 1918 we broadened the scope of our work by formally taking over the business and charges of the Bureau of United Charities of Paris and establishing the Social Service Bureau with an aim to further the social welfare of the community along constructive and general uplift lines, to do the greatest good to the greatest number, teaching thrift and self respect. We maintain a business office in the Chamber of Commerce building in charge of a paid supervisor, a member of the Circle who has taken special courses of study in her line of work. All cases are handled through this office, each one being thoroughly investigated before assistance is given.

We have also taken on Travelers' Aid work, a competent matron who brings help, comfort, inspiration and courage to many lives touched by her loving ministry. We are aided in the support of this by various women's organizations both Church societies and literary clubs.

We have established reading rooms for the messenger boys in the local telegraph offices and a committee personally selects all reading matter.

In rendering this account of our stewardship, we can but touch on the thousands and one bits of service rendered, but these include clothing, house rent, groceries, medicine and fuel furnished where needed, the placing of sick and defective in hospitals and institutions, orphan children in homes to be cared for and educated, the assistance to mothers in matters of hygiene in caring for their families. Hospitals are regularly visited and flowers, magazines and delicacies left for the inmates. Religious services are held at the jail and county home and personal visits of investigation made and help rendered when necessary. Children and unfortunates are remembered at Christmas time and Thanksgiving. We have assisted young women in obtaining business education and have taken mothers out of factories and made it possible for them to care for their homes and little children.

Funds for carrying on this work are raised in May of each year on what is known as "King's Daughters Day" when all business firms and individuals are personally solicited. The city also makes a monthly contribution. Many used garments are donated throughout the year, and a number of new garments given by the Needle Work Guild.

Details of our work for the year include:

181 families helped (50 old and 131 new).
800 individuals involved.
756 calls at office for help.
1614 visits made.

SMALL TOWN FOOTBALL GROWS IN POPULARITY

AUSTIN, Oct. 23.—Encouragement for small town high school football teams was contained in reports of games of the second week of the season made to the University of Texas Interscholastic Bureau of Football Results.

Strawn, with a scholastic population of 785, defeated Ranger, with a scholastic population of 1,998, by a score of 72 to 0. Harrisburg, with less than one-fourth the population of Galveston, played the Ball High School team from the latter city to a scoreless tie; while McKinney, one-third the size of Denison, defeated the latter 34 to 0.

Two sets of figures which approach, if not make, football records were given in the results. In the game between Main Avenue High, San Antonio, and San Antonio Military Academy only four first downs were made, three by Main Avenue and one by the military academy. The game was a scoreless tie. Comanche in defeating Hamilton set the high score of 170 to 0.

Beaumont High completed 24 forward passes in winning from Kirbyville by a score of 89 to 0. Twenty-two high schools reported that medical examination of the players is required at the beginning of the season. During the week the fullback of the LaGrange team received a broken ankle, and the center of the Marshall team had an arm broken.

Abilene, Beaumont and Calvert each has won three straight games, while several other schools have won the only two games played.

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE is hereby given that the City Council of the City of Paris, as a special meeting, held on the 20th day of September, 1920, under a suspension of the rules, a resolution ordering the city engineer to prepare a plan and specifications for the paving of North 20th street, between the north boundary line of Houston street and the south boundary line of Cherry street, in front of the property of J. L. Lewis, Mrs. E. C. Bray and J. P. Strickland, with rock asphalt, bitulithic, over a bituminous material on a concrete base five inches thick. Pursuant to the above resolution the city engineer presented an estimate at a special session of the city council held September 29, 1920, with plans and specifications showing the cost of paving said portion of said street, also a list of property owners on said street abutting thereon, which was duly accepted and approved by the council. The total estimated cost being $14,876.61. The names of property owners whose property abuts thereon are as follows: J. L. Lewis, Mrs. E. C. Bray and J. P. Strickland. Estimated cost, Citizens' portion $8,236.13; City portion, intersections, $1059.60, frontage $5,580.88; total $14,876.61. All property owners on the portion of said street, whether named above or not, are hereby notified to appear before the city council at 7:30 o'clock p. m. on the 25th day of October, 1920, to present objections to said improvement and introduce testimony to show that the estimated cost of the proposed improvement exceeds the cost of their property or that the improvement and such other objections as they may have to the making of said proposed improvement and any and all claims for exemption that said parties may claim by reason of the property being homesteaded or otherwise. The plans and specifications are on file at the office of the city engineer showing the estimated cost of each property owner abutting on said street, also the estimated cost, J. M. CROOK, Mayor, Attest W. G. GEORGE, City Secretary.

PRINCETON U. DEFEATS NAVAL ACADEMY 14 TO 0

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 23.—Dazzling runs from kick formation by Don Loomie, of Peru, Illinois, and Frank Murray, of Nashville, Tenn., were the main factors today in the Princeton eleven's defeat of the Navy, 14 to 0.

Princeton played a defensive game mostly, and let the Navy try its offense in vain until the fourth period.

Chicago 10; Iowa 0.
STAGGFIELD, Chicago, Oct. 23.—The University of Chicago entered the ranks of contenders for the western conference football championship today by defeating the light but tricky Iowa team in a spectacular game 10 to 0.

Rice 43; Southwestern 0.
HOUSTON, Oct. 23.—Playing in a steady downpour which made the field a sea of mud, Rice Institute defeated Southwestern here today by the score of 43 to 0. The game was without spectacular features. Rice outwitted Southwestern.

Army 28; Tufts 6.
WEST POINT, Oct. 23.—Army won from Tufts today 28 to 6 in an exciting contest, in which West Point used only several strong men.

Kansas 7; Ames 0.
LAWRENCE, Kan., Oct. 23.—A seventy-five yard run by Little, Kansas half back in the opening of the first period, scored the lone touchdown in the Kansas-Ames game here today which ended 7 to 0 for Kansas.

Yale 24; V. M. 9.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 23.—Yale trounced West Virginia 24 to 9 this afternoon in a game with few features.

street, came near being killed early last night in a collision with an automobile while they were riding on a bicycle.

The accident occurred on South 20th street and it was understood that the little boys were to blame and that they dashed against the rear end of the auto. One of them was riding on the handle bars in front of the other. They were both knocked off and were both rendered unconscious.

They were both said to have been severely injured. One of them had a deep cut under the eye that extended around across the cheek and required several stitches. They were taken to the Sanitarium and a little later were carried home.

AMERICAN LEGION IS TO CELEBRATE

Elaborate Programs Throughout
State On The Observance Of Armistice Day.

Plans for the organization of the Southwestern conference of the American Legion are now being considered by State Commander Guy O. Shirey. Widespread interest attaches to this movement, which has for its object the promotion of closer relations between the various Posts in the Southwest embracing the states of Louisiana, Arkansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

According to Commander Shirey, the big question which faces the American Legion today is that of coordination of American Legion Posts and Departments in order that all departments may be of greater service to the country and of greater service to the Legionnaires.

Legion Wants Histories.
State Historian L. N. Greenberg of Houston is now engaged in working on a history of the Department of Texas, American Legion. He reports that his search for material has not been up to expectations and that there is a dearth of authentic information on the beginning of the Legion in Texas and of the development and activities of the various posts throughout the state.

Historian Greenberg urges all posts to take steps immediately toward the compiling of a post history so that in the future years when the memory of many Legionnaires will be dimmed by age, they will get the straight facts on any matter which may come up by turning to their post or State history.

Memorial Hospital.
The manner in which some of the Posts of the American Legion are supporting the campaign for $250,000 with which to complete the construction of the Kerrville Hospital for tubercular ex-service men is shown by the action of the Kleberg Post No. 99 of Kingsville.

Nearly all Legion Posts throughout the State now have committees appointed and working in the interest of this great humanitarian cause. It is planned to close the drive on the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month and all Posts in the State will be expected to have raised the minimum contribution from the Legion Post of $200 by that time. In appreciation for this work of the Legionnaires for the name of each Post which contributes a minimum of $200 will be inscribed upon the Roll of Honor, which is to be upon the administration building of the hospital at Kerrville.

Stand of Legion Wins Wide Praise.
The Port Arthur Post is alright. That is what every Legionnaire will say in backing up the stand taken by the Port Arthur and Orange Post of the American Legion in aiding in the maintenance of law and order during the recent outbreak of lawlessness in Port Arthur, and it has caused Star Commander Guy O. Shirey to commend the action of E. T. Williams, post commander at that city, in unmistakable terms. Commander Shirey's letter of appreciation on behalf of the Department of Texas is as follows:

"I wish to take this opportunity of expressing to you the appreciation of the State Organization to your splendid behavior of the past few weeks. Your membership have caught, to the fullest extent, the real ideals of the American Legion movement. Keep up the 'pep' and there is nothing that can halt the American Legion now."

The Port Arthur Post of the American Legion recently was called upon to aid the city administration in repressing lawlessness, many of the Legionnaires serving temporarily on the police force; Post Commander Williams is still the Acting Chief of Police.

Commander Shirey also sent a like letter of commendation to Wm. F. Van Arsdale, Post Commander, of the American Legion at Orange.

Celebration for Armistice Day.

Celebration of Armistice Day by The American Legion on November 11 next will outshine all other undertakings of the big service men's organization.

The outstanding feature of the day will be the formal presentation of Victory Medals to all ex-service men who have obtained their medals by that date, and the presentation will be made with appropriate ceremonies in some of the larger cities of the State, these ceremonies are to be elaborate affairs and will be supplemented by parades, picnics and patriotic exercises.

THE SINGING BAND IN PARIS MONDAY

White Hussars Are Attraction At The Grand With Musical Program.

On Monday evening Ralph Dunbar's "White Hussar Singing Band" will be the attraction at the Grand. Manager Musselman has made every effort to secure attractions which will appeal to the patrons of the Grand; and this singing band, which has been drawing great crowds at the Dallas fair, is one of the season's best.

Al Sweet, one of the famous band conductors, is at the head of the band; and that insures that there will be the best of music. Mr. Sweet is known throughout the country as a band master of unexcelled ability; and in his Dallas engagement there have been many high compliments paid him and the organization.

A number of the Paris people who attended the fair heard the band and they have made excellent report of the ability of the members of the organization as bandmen and as singers.

Dunbar is handling a number of the good road shows this season, all of which are booked for the Grand; Musselman learned that there was an open date and at once went after it. The band has appeared nowhere else in Texas than the Dallas fair and it was not proposed to make an attraction of it to be offered the various theatres.

The entertainment is not wholly of band music; but, as the name signifies, the bandmen are all good singers and there is a touch of vaudeville to the show which will be pleasing to the theatre goers of Paris. There is a lot of instrumental music, of course; and the band has several numbers on the program; but the singing is a great feature of the evening.

Manager Musselman is of the opinion that he has made a hit in securing the band as an attraction; and that it will be appreciated by the patrons of the house and by a considerable number of others who are not usually present except for the pictures.

THE MIKADO TO BE SUNG AT THE GRAND

Within a short time Ralph Dunbar's company will present "The Mikado," that famous light opera, for the delectation of the musically inclined of Paris. Those who heard Robin Hood will know that Dunbar stages his shows as they should be and that he has rare ability in casting the parts.

He gives close attention to the voices; and it is a safe thing to predict that the "three little maids from school" will be typical of three of the Mikado's best children. It has been some years since "The Mikado" was presented in Texas; and there probably will be ready response to the return of the opera in capable hands and mouths, such as Dunbar entrusts his shows to.

Manager Musselman is confident that there will be appreciation of his efforts to please and to secure the best of the road attractions. These folks like to come to Paris for the reason that the Grand is one of the few theatres in Texas which is still a theatre and has not been taken over by the vaudevillians to the exclusion of such sterling attractions as Dunbar is presenting this season.

MILLION GARMENTS WANTED FOR POLAND'S UNFORTUNATES

Miss Quayle, official representative in Poland of the Southern Methodist church writes:

"The suffering here this winter is going to be unspeakable. People are starving now, so you can imagine what winter will mean. Please send us warm clothing, especially underwear and shoes. We must have supplies. Put on a campaign in the churches for old clothes. Nothing is too old to send. A Polish priest said, 'My people would rejoice to have that piece of cloth you use to scrub the floor, and the shoes you cast away as worn out.' Everybody expects this fighting to go on all winter. The suffering is going to be much worse than in Vienna. We must have supplies. We will need every penny of the $500,000 I read in the Centenary Bulletin that had been set aside for immediate relief work in Poland. If we don't have something to clothe these poor starving babies with, or at least help in some substantial way, please don't ask me to stay and face this winter with all that will bring."

Congregational C. E. Entertained

On Friday evening, the Christian Endeavor of the First Congregational church here, its first monthly social and business session, at the home of Rev. F. J. and Mrs. Garman, with twenty-four members present.

A musical program was rendered by Misses Grace and Johanna Garman, Mildred Spain and Winnie Wall and this was followed by a short business period with reports from the various committees.

Afterward, all sorts of games were played and helped to pass an enjoyable social hour. The decorations were all suggestive of Halloween. Cream and cake were served.

Veteran Missionary a Visitor Here.

During the past week, Miss Kate Spencer, a veteran missionary, was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. L. C. Kirkes, and during her stay, made several interesting talks to the church societies. For twenty years she was the principal of the mission school at Aguascalientes, Mexico, and when here, was en route to Merida, in Yucatan, where she will continue her work. She has "grown old in the service of the Lord," for her hair is now a silver-white, but she is active and zealous, and in her talks, was a source of such encouragement and enlightenment as to the work in the hands of mission workers.

The ladies of the First Methodist Missionary Society urge every woman of the city, regardless of denomination, to help in this very worthy cause. They will pack the boxes in the basement of the high school building Monday (tomorrow) afternoon.

If you cannot bring your bundle to the High School, put it on your front porch and phone Mrs. L. P. McCusick (43) or Mrs. F. D. Mallory (312) and they will call for it between one and three o'clock Monday afternoon.

Success in Evangelical Work. Word has been received from Dr. Ben. M. Edwards, formerly pastor of the First Christian church here, who has recently entered the evangelical field, that the meeting he has been conducting in Bristol, Tenn., has been most successful. During the first week there were twenty-five additions to the church there, and crowds were turned away from services for lack of accommodation.

Returned From Provincial Synod. Rev. H. G. and Mrs. Hennessy have returned from Waco, where they went to the provincial synod of the Episcopal church, comprising seven Southwestern states.

Mrs. Hennessy attended the woman's auxiliary of the synod as a diocesan representative, and was elected the secretary and treasurer of the synod.

West Paris Baptist Auxiliary. The Ladies' Auxiliary of the West Paris Baptist church will meet at half past two tomorrow afternoon at the church. Mrs. C. M. Reavis will conduct the bible lesson.

Student at Presbyterian Training School.

Miss Martha Cooke has entered the Presbyterian Training School in Chicago with the view to devoting herself to Christian work. She has been a most devoted member of the Central Presbyterian church here, and an earnest worker in all church activities, particularly amongst the young people.

Episcopal Parish Party.

The Woman's Guild of the Church of the Holy Cross (Episcopal) extends a most cordial invitation to the Halloween party they are giving to members of the church and Sunday school Friday evening at the parish house, beginning at seven o'clock.

Episcopal Woman's Auxiliary.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of the Holy Cross (Episcopal) meets tomorrow afternoon at the parish house. The missionary lesson will be on "Scouting with the Indians." Cream and cake will be served.

Expect To Have New Pastor Soon.

Associate pastor L. B. Conrad of the First Christian church returned the latter part of the week from conference in St. Louis, and reports that while so far no one has been found to fill the pastorate here, that there is every indication that the same will not long remain vacant.

Joint Services This Evening.

As the First Christian church is still without a pastor, Rev. L. C. Kirkes of the Central Presbyterian church will fill the pulpit there this evening, and the congregations will meet jointly.

Epworth League Halloween Party.

The Senior Epworth League of the First Methodist church will have a Halloween party Friday evening beginning at half past eight, in the new church building. A cordial invitation is extended to all the young people of the church.

Missionary Rally Service.

The women of the Central Presbyterian church will have an all-day meeting for a missionary rally on Thursday, October 28th. Mrs. Broad, the presbyterian president will be in charge.

Organ Dedication Service.

Next Sunday evening there will be a formal dedication of the organ at the Central Presbyterian church, with a special musical program prepared by Mrs. Corinne Dargan Brooks.

The Westminster Circle. The Westminster Circle of the Central Presbyterian church will meet next Saturday afternoon with Rosa Louise Dill on South 18th street.

New Era Class to Have Halloween Party.

The New Era Class of the First Methodist Sunday School will have a Halloween party next Saturday evening, beginning at 8:30 at the home of Miss Margaret Bean, 104 Graham street.

T. C. U. Glee Club to Sing Here.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the First Christian church has made arrangements for a benefit concert to be given here sometime in December by the T. C. U. Glee Club.

Congregational Missionary Society.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Congregational church meets Monday afternoon at the church at half past two.

Girls' Halloween Party.

The Girls' Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church will have a Halloween party Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Ed Long, 236 Lamar Avenue.

First Baptist Ladies' Auxiliary.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church meets Monday afternoon at the church at three o'clock.

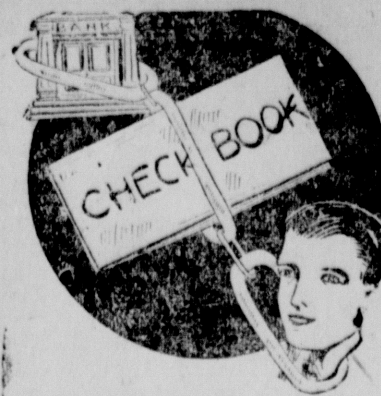

RETIRED OFFICER SENT TO WEST POINT FROM PARIS

A dispatch from the Dallas News yesterday from Washington contains an announcement from the War Department of the retirement of Col. Wilds P. Richardson from the army after forty years service. He spent his boyhood in Paris and was appointed to West Point from here in 1880. During the world war he was promoted to brigadier general and saw service in France. He was retired at his request. Accompanying the announcement of his retirement the Dallas News prints a photograph of him.

TREATED BY HIS WIFE

TO SURPRISE DINING

Dr. F. G. Cook was treated to a surprise birthday dining at 7 o'clock last night by his wife at their home on 30th street. About twenty of his friends were invited in honor of the event and a buffet luncheon was served, after which they played forty-two until 11 o'clock and spent a most enjoyable time. It was a complete surprise to the doctor.

She Keeps Faith With You— Will You Keep Faith With Her?

Quietly, but effectively, the Greatest Mother in the World is toiling and drudging for you and yours.

She has not forgotten the crippled, blinded remnants of the war in Army and Navy hospitals. To the victims of disaster in war she still brings blessed relief.

She does more. She takes to her arms the victims of disaster in peace, the victims of floods, fires, tornadoes and other catastrophes. Over 30,000 such unfortunates were shielded and sheltered by her this year.

In preventing disease through education, in saving lives through careful nursing and by teaching first aid in accidents the Greatest Mother in the World—your RED CROSS—is keeping faith with you; keeping faith not only in your own country—aye, in your own vicinity—but also in devastated foreign lands.

Will you keep faith with her? The good she has done in the past has been possible entirely through the help of your membership. Will you continue to sustain her as she continues to sustain you? Then join the Red Cross or renew your membership. Send your application on the enrollment blank below to your nearest Red Cross Chapter.

Chapman-Rives

From the Hopkinton, Ky., New Era: One of the most beautiful weddings ever solemnized in Hopkinton took place Saturday evening at the First Methodist church when a large and fashionable assemblage of guests witnessed the marriage of Miss Florine Lina Rives, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Harry Rives, to Mr. Max Chapman, of Paris, Texas.

The church was elaborately and most artistically decorated with state ferns and southern amulax, and the chancel was a tower of floral beauty, the mass of greens forming a setting for clusters of pink dahlias. White tulle ribbons, with dahlia, marked the pews reserved for the relatives and intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. William B. Kendall, of Paris, Texas, a prominent Baptist divine and uncle of Miss Rives.

Miss Katherine Follansby presided at the organ, and a special program of wedding music was delightfully rendered. This included an exquisite violin solo, "Ave Maria," by Mr. E. Cooper, and a group of songs by the bride's aunt, Miss Lillian Edwards, of the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company, whose wonderful voice was heard in "Because," "The Birth of a Song," and "At Dawning."

The processional, perfectly played by Miss Follansby, was the Lohengrin wedding march. The bride party entered by the right and left aisles, crossing at the altar, forming a graceful picture. It was a rainbow wedding, the delicate tints being carried out in the handsome evening costumes of silver lace and champagne, with draped side trains, worn by the bridesmaids. These were her sister, Miss Margaret Rives, maid of honor, in green; Mrs. Churchill Baker, in pink; Mrs. Everett Clayton, of Lewisburg, Tenn., in blue, and Miss Emelia Frankel, in yellow. They carried French bouquets of Malabar Butterfly roses. The flower girl, Miss Virginia Rives, sister of the bride, wore pink net and carried a basket of Columbia roses, in the heart of which was the wedding ring. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Raymond Rives as best man, and Messrs. W. Olesby Soyars, Curtis Park and F. B. Lacy, who also served as ushers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in an exquisite robe of white satin and lace, with draped side train. Valley lilies with orange blossoms adorned her veil and she carried a shower bouquet of orchids, bride's roses and bouvardias. The men in the wedding party were clad in the conventional evening clothes. The ring service was used and the Rev. Mr. Kendall, telling of the sacred origin of the rite, most impressively pronounced the words that linked the lives and destinies of the happy pair. During the ceremony Miss Follansby softly played Traumer on the pipe organ. The wedding party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's march.

The marriage was followed by a delightful reception given at the hospitable country home of the bride's parents, which was attractively decorated for the occasion, and where the guests had the pleasure of viewing the hundreds of handsome presents which attested the popularity of the bride and bridegroom. A sumptuous collation was served. Mr. and Mrs. Chapman left on an extensive honeymoon trip. They will make their home in Paris, where he bridegroom is a prominent banker and one of the most popular and esteemed young citizens. The bride is one of Christian county's loveliest and most charming daughters, whose graciousness and sweetness of disposition have made her a general favorite. She made her home for two years in Paris, Texas, after she was graduated from Randolph-Macon College, and it was there she met Mr. Chapman, and the acquaintance ripened into the love which Saturday night found expression at the altar.

Daughters of the American Revolution

The Joseph Ligon Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution met for the first time this season, in business session with Mrs. J. T. Conway and Mrs. B. W. Lewis at Mrs. Conway's home on Clark street, Thursday afternoon. A brief program was given, including two vocal selections by Mrs. Conrad, accompanied by Miss Gilbert. A number of invited guests were present during the social hour, and refreshment, salad and tea were served.

Mrs. Charles Webb, the regent, and Mrs. Hunter Bywaters of Roston were chosen delegates to the state convention to be held in Austin during November. Alternates are Mrs. W. P. Duncan and Merriek Davis.

These committees were appointed to serve during the year: Americanization and Patriotic Education—Mrs. J. T. Rountree, chairman, Mrs. J. T. Rountree and W. F. Moore.

Correct Use of the Flag—Mrs. Will Lightfoot, chairman, Mrs. G. P. Fairfax, R. L. Bennett.

Denton Normal School Fund—Mrs. W. P. Duncan, chairman, Mrs. Emma Lloyd Elliott.

General Research—Mrs. G. P. Fairfax, chairman, Mrs. J. T. Rountree, Mrs. J. T. Rountree and W. F. Moore.

Preservation of Historical Spots—Mrs. C. G. Bowers, chairman, Mrs. Hunter Bywaters.

Civic Committee—Miss Sallie Lee Lightfoot, chairman, Mrs. Morrison Griffin, Dudley Blair.

Old Cemetery—Mrs. S. L. Bedford, chairman, Miss Regina Leach.

The Lotus Club

"The most interesting lesson in the history of the Lotus Club was the verdict passed upon Tuesday's study of Drinkwater's play 'Abraham Lincoln.' In the light of events of the world war, the drama is given a new and deeper significance, especially since it shows us 'the many-sided man' from a Briton's viewpoint. This was taken up in Mrs. Price's paper. Mrs. Crook discussed Percy Mackaye's portrayal of Washington, and Drinkwater's of Lincoln, and compared the two methods of depicting these central figures of our history. The structure of the play was Mrs. Long's subject, and its dialogue, that of Mrs. Long, the latter discussion embracing the various characters and their uniqueness to type.

Mrs. R. E. Leach conducted the current events. Mrs. McDonald discussed "The High Cost of Living and the Cost of High Living," and Mrs. Brooks, "The Rapid Advance of the Airplane."

Altogether, it was a most stimulating and enlightening program, and one to be long remembered. Mrs. Rush was hostess for the afternoon, and at the close of the session, served a delightful refreshment course.

The Blue Triangle

The class in physical education of the Blue Triangle Club will meet Monday at 8 o'clock P. M. in the basement of the High School.

The inclement weather on Thursday night made it impossible for the class to hold its regular meeting, but a good crowd is anticipated for Monday night. This is a phase of the Blue Triangle Club that should appeal to every girl and woman in the city and it makes no difference where a girl is a member of the club or not if you are interested in this sort of thing, come out Monday night and get full particulars. The Blue Triangle Club is in Paris to stay and every thinking man and woman should realize the importance of such an organization and lend all the support and help possible. One of the most helpful things that the club is doing at the present time is to hold classes in physical education under the direction of a competent director and it is a real opportunity for any woman and girl interested in a wholesome, healthy good time.

Honoring the King's Daughters' Delegates

In honor of the delegates to the State Convention of King's Daughters held here Wednesday and Thursday, a reception was given in the Central Presbyterian church parlors by the Paris circle after the first evening's lecture by Mrs. McLaughlin of Vicksburg, Miss. The convention guests, cut flowers and ferns were used for decoration, and a delightful fruit punch was served with cake. On Thursday, a five-course luncheon was given in a private dining room at the Hotel Gibraltar, with white, purple and silver, the Daughters' chosen colors used in the decorative scheme. The large central table had an ivory enameled basket filled with summer lilac and cosmos, with garlands of foliage studded with the blossoms wreathed about the centerpiece. This was flanked by white tapers in silver candelabra. On the smaller tables, vases of the flowers were used.

The honorees were Mrs. McLaughlin of Vicksburg, Miss. C. M. Miller, (past president) Beckman and Harvey of Austin, Goddard of Georgetown, and Fine and Featherstone of Cleburne.

Girls' Bridge Club

The Girls' Bridge Club met Thursday afternoon with Miss Ellen Corbett as hostess. The club being Mrs. Robert Alexander of Bonham, J. J. O'Malley, Richard Freeman (Nee Le Clercq) and Connor Dickson. The rooms where the tables were arranged were decorated with various club flowers now in season. For refreshment, salad and an ice were served.

Mrs. Guy Cornett won high score for the club, and was presented with a handsome basket for ferns, while the crystal and brocade bon-bon dish which was the guest-trophy went to Mrs. O'Malley.

Club members present were Misses Lorraine Caddell, Helen Hurt, Ruth Reynolds, Ida Mabel Bird, Ruth Revelle and Katherine McMurtry, Mrs. Gene Williams and Mrs. Guy Cornett.

New Bridge Club Organized

The latest addition of Paris to its coterie is the new bridge club organized Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. K. Shirley on Pine Bluff street. Meetings will be held on alternate Wednesday afternoons, at the homes of the members. Mrs. Shirley was elected president. The membership includes Misses Aline House, Thelus Williams, Margaret High, and Hazel Rucker, Mrs. Robert Gresham, Newt McKinney, Leon Anderson, John Lawrence, J. K. Shirley,

Noble Van Burkleo, Hoyt Braselton, Frank Stewart, John B. Rountree, Walter Williamson and Jack Boyd. In the games Mrs. Van Burkleo made high score. Later delightful refreshments were served. Misses Vernon Stoner and Glenn Burt were present as guests.

The next meeting will be held on November 3rd at the home of Mrs. Leon Anderson, on 25th and Price streets.

Citizenship Class Opens Tomorrow

A class in citizenship has been arranged for this week for the benefit of the women interested in obtaining a better working knowledge of our government, and in particular for those who, through the payment of county and city poll taxes, are entitled to vote in the election of November second. These classes will be held every afternoon this week at three o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce building, and a most representative attendance of women present every day.

Following are the instructors for each day: Monday—Mrs. T. D. Wells. Tuesday—Mrs. C. I. Broad. Wednesday—Mrs. D. H. Scott. Thursday—Mrs. Tom Scott. Friday—Mrs. L. C. Kirk. Saturday—Miss Myrtle Robinson.

Mrs. Blythe as Hostess

Mrs. Richard Blythe entertained her Bridge Club Tuesday afternoon at her home on South 2nd street. Mrs. S. W. Wilcox and W. T. Scott played substitute hands. In the games, Mrs. Ed Hutson won the prize, a novelty purse and card case. The rooms where the tables were set were beautifully decorated with red and white roses. For refreshment, salad and an ice were served.

A. D. PERSONAL—SOC

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Neville have arrived from Sherman and will be in town as guests of relatives and friends until Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rue of Gainesville are visiting Mrs. Rue's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Coleman.

The Married Ladies' Bridge Club

The Married Ladies' Bridge Club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. S. Patrick, guests of the club being Mrs. J. B. Bettes, Joseph Meyer, Charles Delbooy, and Ed Hutson.

The rooms were attractive with decorations of roses and cosmos in pink. The prize, a box of exquisite handmade pankerchiefs, was won by Mrs. C. A. Fall.

For refreshment, salad and an ice were served. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. C. A. Fall's home.

The Lander Study Club

The Lander Study Club was entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Parr on West 1st street. The lesson on the "Emancipation and Early History of Transportation" was conducted by Mrs. Dowdy. Mrs. James read an interesting paper on "The Life of Frontiersman" and Mrs. Hunt gave a book review and Mrs. Conway discussed "The Composition of Local Population" after which the hostess served delightful refreshments.

The Twentieth Century Club

The Twentieth Century Club was entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. B. Sturgeon, Mrs. Sturgeon directing a comprehensive study of Churchill's "Coniston." Roll call was answered with quotations from the novel, Mrs. Boone giving a book review and Mrs. Conway making a general discussion on the author's treatment of his subject.

Following the lesson, cream and cake were served.

For Mrs. Gabbert

Complimentary to Mrs. Sheb Gabbert of Memphis, Tenn., Mrs. Justin Gabbert entertained Thursday afternoon with tea tables of bridge. The rooms were charmingly decorated with roses, carnations and fern. For refreshment after the games, a delectable salad and an ice were served.

Mrs. Mamie Priddy won the high score prize, an artistic pottery basket, while the honoree's gift was two handsome decks of cards.

Entertained During Week-End Visit

Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith Ownby of Dallas entertained Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Charles F. Delbooy

GALVESTON EXPECTS TO INCREASE COTTON SHIPMENT

GALVESTON, Oct. 23.—Stimulation of the laggard movement of southern cotton to European countries is expected by cotton men here to follow Admiral Benson's cut in ocean rates between Galveston and the ports of Havre and Liverpool. The rates were reduced 43 and 25 cents, respectively, per hundred pounds on high density cotton.

Admiral Benson's action came on the heels of a statement from Washington that, unless the French line abandoned alleged practices of underbidding American and other foreign lines the shipping board would be forced into a "rate war."

Impetus recently given the movement to permit German and French firms to purchase Texas low-grade cotton on long term credits, coupled with the drastic cut in ocean rates, cotton men believe, can not but stimulate the purchase by European mills of the southern staple. The low figure at which the product now can be bought also is expected to result in the placing of heavy European orders. At present there are 171,457 bales in storage here as compared with 115,669 at the same time last year.
